ELECTRICAL UNION TO STRIKE

Americans Fail to Respond to Truman's Plea, Legislators Say

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Senators and representatives reported today a meager reaction from constituents to President Truman's appeal to the people to turn pressure on congress for speed on his legislative program.

But one unexpected aftermath was a statement by Senator Morse, R., Ore., that Senator Taft, R., Ohio, had delivered a "radio tirade" in reply last night.

Morse himself criticized the Truman appeal. But he said some of the measures Taft attacked had bipartisan backing. He asserted that the Ohioan's remarks show "in a frightening manner" why the common men and women of the country "cannot look to the reactionary Republicans, who are seeking to control the Republican party, to protect and improve their standard of living."

Taft had struck at so-called "full employment" legislation, health insurance, and administration plan for higher payments to the unemployed, continued rent and price control, and other presidential proposals. He was on the air last night from Cincinnati.

"Taft demonstrated," Morse said, "that his political and economic philosophy is the same as that of the reactionary Democrats now in control of the Democratic party."

Some congressmen said they had received one or two telegrams as a result of Mr. Truman's appeal Thursday night. Some said none had come in. Only a few lawmakers remained in the capital over the holidays, however.

Others the reaction on those who went home over Christmas and New Year's apparently will determine the results of the President's Thursday night radio address to the people. He said congress had been "distressingly slow" on domestic legislation he had recommended. He asked the people to back his program and tell their views to their congressmen.

The White House itself said it had counted some 500 telegrams in response to the Truman speech. Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said about 80 per cent were "favorable."

Governor Calls for Valley Development

BUHL, Jan. 5—Idaho's Magic Valley is one of the richest agricultural areas in the United States and its vast resources should be developed to the fullest, Gov. Arnold Williams told a gathering of Democrats and business leaders of the Buhl section here tonight at a dinner meeting also attended by Sen. Glen H. Taylor.

Governor Williams pointed to the possibilities of power development, better roads, cheaper freight rates, and industrial potentialities of the area as projects which the people of the Magic Valley themselves should get behind with full support.

Leading Power State

Declaring that Idaho has "more natural power than any state in the union," he added that electricity should and could be developed very cheaply in the state, which would be an inducement to needed industries.

Pointing to the housing problem and the growing scarcity of timber in the state, he suggested that farmers of the state should grow more crops such as corn and soy beans from which synthetics can be made, and advanced the possibility that cheaper electric power would bring in the factories to develop these practics.

"Idaho's future fully is ideally situated for such developments," he said.

Freight Discrimination

Touching on the freight rate problem, he said that "the people in eastern Idaho pay more freight to take out their products than the people from Montana shipping over the same line with the Montana products going 300 miles further."

Efforts are being made to adjust this situation, he added.

The governor also urged greater exploitation of Idaho's scenic valleys and suggested colored photography as one means of getting the state's scenic possibilities before tourists the nation over.

Agreement Is Made to Stop War in China

CHUNGKING, Jan. 5 (AP)—The government and the communists announced today an agreement on methods of ending China's civil strife and instructed their top negotiators to meet not later than Monday to work out the details.

It was learned reliably that Gen. Chang Chen, the government negotiator, and Chou En-Lai, the communists' representative, would seek the help of Gen. George C. Marshall, special U. S. envoy to China.

K. C. Wu, minister of information, said date of a cease fire order, stilling the sporadic shooting that has punctuated the civil turmoil since Japan's surrender, would be set when the negotiators meet.

It still was not known here whether the government had agreed to lift the blockade of communist areas, which the communists had demanded as one condition before going further with peace talks.

It was generally conceded that the existence of an armistice when the Chinese unity conference opens Jan. 10 would greatly enhance the prospects of its success.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who called the session, indicated in his message to the nation on New Year's eve a willingness to broaden the base of his government to achieve unity.

A semi-official dispatch reported that government troops had begun landing by air in Changchun, the capital of Manchuria, the vast and rich territory which both sides have been trying to control.

The government, needing the territory's natural resources and industries for the reconstruction of China, has asked Russian occupation forces to delay their withdrawal until Feb. 1 so that Chinese troops can take over strategic areas.

Lieut.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer announced that U. S. ships would begin moving national government troops into Manchuria shortly.

He Stops for Sheep; Auto Hits His Car

JEROME, Jan. 5 — Stopping to allow sheep to clear off the highway near Jerome Saturday morning, a car driven by Ducine Aslett, Jerome, was struck from the rear by a car being operated by Arthur D. Brown, Bridgeport, Neb., it was reported by county officers. Only slight damage resulted to the cars.

Nine Lives

DETROIT, Jan. 5 (AP)—Carl Boehm, in the hospital with a bullet wound in his right leg, is convinced his cat has nine lives and has used up at least two of them.

The cat was injured in an accident, so Boehm took it into the alley last night to end its suffering with his revolver.

But pussy jumped just as Boehm took a bead—and the bullet went into his leg instead.

Kimmel Held To Blame for Fleet Attack

WASHINGTON, Jan 5 (AP)—Adm. Harold R. Stark said today that he left all responsibility for movements of the Pacific fleet up to Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, its commander, after ordering "defensive deployment" Nov. 27, 1941.

As chief of naval operations, Stark said, he made no check on how Kimmel was carrying out that order because that was not the navy way of doing things.

"If the admiral is explained to a senate-house investigating committee, "an officer gives an order and expects a subordinate to carry it out."

With this testimony, the white-thatched naval officer left the witness chair after a week of questioning. He maintained throughout that:

1. Kimmel had received "adequate information" so that he should have been on guard when the Japanese struck Dec. 7, 1941.

2. No top official in Washington sought to warn Kimmel, but on the contrary all endeavored to maintain peace because the country was unprepared for a "two-ocean" war, and Hitler was regarded as the major threat.

When Stark's examination was completed, the committee recessed until Jan. 15. At that time Kimmel will be the witness. He is to be followed by Lieut.-Gen. Walter C. Short, army commander at Hawaii when the Japanese struck.

Put into the committee's record just before the recess was a Japanese naval officer's report that "several planes" made reconnaissance flights over Pearl Harbor shortly before the attack.

Slot Machine Tax Set by Assessors

BOISE, Jan. 5 (AP)—Idaho county assessors completed their annual convention here today by agreeing to assess slot machines in the state.

The assessor's action subjects the machines to taxes assessment if they do not belong to benevolent organizations.

The assessors adopted a committee report outlining changes in the assessed valuation of horses. The suggested valuations were offered only as a guide for uniform assessment and are not binding.

The revisions included an increase in the valuation of registered stallions from $75 to $70, other registered horses from $50 to $57, work horses from $20 to $27, range or saddle stock from $12 to $17, colts from $12 to $13 and mules from $20 to $23.

Weather Delays Yule Tree Pyre

Inclement weather delayed a proposed Christmas tree bonfire Saturday although it failed to dampen the enthusiasm of many children who appeared at the city hall park in rain, wind and driving rain-snowstorm, brought sacks of weinies, marshmallows and buns for an expected feast.

Officials from the fire department, on hand to guarantee safety for the children, also agreed the situation was "no time for a bonfire."

The entire program is designed to keep children from starting individual fires in backyards or neighboring lots and consequently run risk of personal injury or property damage, Price said.

New Plan to Return Non-Essential Yanks

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 5 (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney disclosed today a new system of U. S. army redeployment from Europe under which the release of men to go home will depend on whether they are essential in their jobs, and whether replacements arrive.

Th old redeployment program is ended, he announced.

It was good news for men with low points. Men with 10 or 15 points who had thought they might be in Germany for years under the point system could be home by July 1, if replacements arrive.

McNarney, U. S. commander in the European theater, told a news conference that high point men kept in Europe remain because they are needed, and not because of lack of ships.

He said that through the new program "we will have the requisite American forces to fulfill our nation's responsibilities in Germany. The United States forces will be employed efficiently and will be assisted by a maximum of non-military personnel.

"To this end I have created a liquidation and manpower board to check into every activity. Its objective is to recommend personnel reductions by eliminating tasks of speeding their end."

He said it had not been decided what divisions would compose the newly planned occupation force, but that all would be infantry.

There will be no armored divisions as such but the constabulary will be entirely armored.

McNarney estimated that a cut of 70,000 men, or 19 per cent, would be made in the original occupation force estimate of 370,000 by July 1.

Tax Payment In First Half At New High

Seventy-three per cent of 1945 real property taxes was collected by Mrs. Rose J. Wilson, county treasurer, she announced yesterday.

The figure was $665,554.81 of a total of $1,187,837.35. Dec. 22 was the deadline for over-the-counter payment of the first half of last year's taxes. Mailed returns had to be postmarked not later than Dec. 23. No taxes have been collected since the deadlines and the books will be open again Jan. 28-June 22 for payment of the last half of 1945 real property taxes.

Pleased by the response, Mrs. Wilson said this was probably a percentage record. In 1944 71 per cent was paid before books closed. There are now a few delinquent taxpayers and these will be penalized.

Picabo Man Held On Utah Charges

PRICE, Utah, Jan. 5 (AP)—Charged with extorting money while posing as a policeman, Martin L. Potter, 43, of Picabo, Ida., has been bound over to district court for trial.

The complaint states Potter, who lists himself as a railroad telegraph operator in Idaho, threatened to take Clyde Howard to jail but would not if Howard paid him $7.

Potter compiled, the complaint says. The charge dates the offense on the night of Jan. 2.

Officers said Potter told them he was here on a visit.

12 Are Released By Pardon Board

BOISE, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Idaho pardon board today took up additional applications for clemency after voting releases yesterday for 12 prisoners at the state penitentiary.

Prisoners granted pardons, the county from which they were committed, the charge for which they were sentenced, and their term included:

Wottie Bitt, Elmore county, forgery, four months to one year; Willis Allen, Lincoln county, burglary, one to 15 years; Sophus Degn, Cassia county, forgery, one to 14 years; Leonard Butterfield, Elmore county, burglary, three to 15 years.

Crops Valued at $15,248,003 Harvested in Three States by Prisoners of War Under Rupert Command

RUPERT, Jan. 5—Approximately 15,000 prisoners of war under the command of the Rupert prisoner of war camp harvested crops valued at $15,248,003.89 in Idaho, Montana and Oregon during the year 1945.

In releasing the figures, Col. Dott E. Smith, commanding officer at Rupert, announced that, in addition to the base camp at Rupert, 34 branch agricultural camps were established and operated during the past year.

Potatoes, Beets Heaviest

Potato, beet and onion harvests provided the war prisoners with their heaviest work load, the colonel reported. They harvested 4,823,543 tons of beets valued at $5,874,516 and picked 3,242,649 sacks of late potatoes valued at $4,178,312.25. They also harvested 881,669 sacks of early potatoes valued at $1,675,171.10 and 689,496 sacks of onions valued at $1,206,818.

Work of the prisoners in this section drew much favorable comment during the potato and beet harvests when they worked against time and adverse weather conditions to get the crop in before freezing weather.

The prisoner of war camp operates as a part of the army service forces of the ninth service command.

National Walkout Of Phone Workers 'About to Explode'

By The Associated Press

The CIO electrical workers yesterday announced a nationwide strike of 200,000 workers in plants of the General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors companies had been called for Jan. 15.

The announcement was made at the end of a day-long conference of the union's executive officers in New York, and followed by less than an hour the announcement of a revised wage offer by General Electric.

In New York, a union leader said the three-day-old Western Electric strike was "just about ready to explode" into a nationwide walkout of telephone workers.

Frank J. Fitzsimmons, president of the Western Electric Employes' association, said he had conferred with Joseph A. Beirne, president of the national federation of telephone workers, and believed that "by Monday or Wednesday something will be ready to break".

A poll of the NFTW membership was begun at the outset of the Western Electric strike, and Beirne said it would take another seven or eight days before union leaders knew whether their members had authorized a sympathy strike. However, Fitzsimmons based his statement on negotiations Saturday between Beirne, the association of communications equipment workers (an NFTW union), and Western Electric.

The communications workers, seeking a 30 per cent wage increase, have set Wednesday as a strike deadline. If the strike is called, [illegible] would not be crossed by other telephone union members.

Another strike was temporarily stayed by President Truman's appointment of an emergency board to investigate a labor dispute affecting the St. Louis and San Francisco (Frisco) railway. The walkout of 7,000 employes had been set for 6 p. m. mountain standard time today.

C. O. Carnahan, chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Frisco, said the walkout had been postponed after receipt of of-

Deaths Mount In East Texas Wind Storm

PALESTINE, Tex., Jan. 5 (AP)—The death toll from tornadoes that ripped through a section of east Texas mounted to 25 tonight. Texas highway patrolmen and scores of local officials dug through debris in search of other victims.

About 100 persons remained hospitalized from injuries suffered last night as the high winds cut through the area. Hundreds of others were hurt less seriously.

About 60 homes were demolished in Palestine and Anderson county where the tornadoes swept through an area of about 18 miles demolishing buildings, uprooting trees and overturning automobiles.

Most damage was concentrated in the pineclad foothills of east Texas. In addition to Anderson county, Clawson, near Lufkin and the Nacogdoches area felt the fury of the storm.

There were 14 known dead in Anderson county; 3 in Clawson, 7 in Nacogdoches and 1 in St. Paul, Leon county, which adjoins Anderson county.

Appleby was in the path of the storm and it is feared other victims may be found there.

Of persons injured in Anderson county, 18 still remain in hospitals here. Several are in a critical condition. At least 65 persons were hurt at Nacogdoches and 8 at Lufkin. Seventeen Negroes were injured at St. Paul. Hundreds of other persons in the area received medical attention but were not hospitalized.

At Shilo, Leon county, no deaths were reported but seven homes were demolished. Several persons were injured when high winds struck a school gymnasium where they were watching a basketball game. The community hall also was destroyed.

Girl Paroled To Court on Guilty Reply

BURLEY, Jan. 5—Entering a plea of guilty to a charge of perjury, Lois Shirley Lemmon, 18, Oakley, was given a suspended sentence of one to 14 years this afternoon by District Judge T. Bailey Lee.

She was paroled to the district court for a period of one year during which she will be given an opportunity to receive training so that she may become self-supporting, Judge Lee said.

The girl, who admitted falsely recusing Harry Keever, convict at the Idaho state penitentiary, of kidnaping her and Thelma Elquist, 16, Oakley, and taking them to Wells, Nev., was remanded to custody of the sheriff pending completion of arrangements for her training.

The Elquist girl was previously committed to the state reformatory.

The girls confessed to "making up" the story of the kidnaping after investigation revealed that Keever was in the state prison at the time of the alleged kidnaping.

The Martindale girl was represented in court by Kales Law, Burley, who was appointed by the court, while the prosecution was handled by District Attorney Adonis H. Nielsen.

Polio Poster Lad Will Be Greeted

The boy whose pictures are on the official posters for the 1946 paralysis campaign, and on all the coin collectors of the March of Dimes, will stop briefly at the Union Pacific station in Shoshone Monday.

He is Donald Anderson, 5, Prineville, Ore., who is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, he will be greeted at Shoshone by Mrs. John E. Hayes, Idaho director of the national foundation campaign.

The boy's pictures on campaign literature show him as a polio-stricken child and then after curative treatment.

Delegates of 51 Countries To Open UNO

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP) — A large American contingent led hundreds of delegates representing 51 countries who overcrowded, bomb-scarred London tonight for the launching of the United Nations organization Jan. 10.

Led by Edward R. Stettinius, jr., former U. S. secretary of state, the American delegation, including more than 100 other state department officials and typists, arrived aboard the Queen Elizabeth.

With Stettinius were Sen. Tom Connally, Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and five alternate delegates. U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will fly to London within the next few days to head the delegation.

From other sections of the world came scores of delegates for the first meeting of the new agency founded at San Francisco to keep the peace.

There were hints meanwhile that Australia, China or one of the South American countries might ask the general assembly to reconsider San Francisco as the site of UNO headquarters. However, the feeling appeared general that even if the site question were reopened the seat would be established in the eastern United States.

As host country Great Britain has completed plans for the meeting which will open Thursday afternoon in the flag-draped central hall, in the shadow of Westminster Abbey.

King George will welcome the delegates at a state banquet — the first since the war — at St. James palace Wednesday night.

Dworshak Suggests Military Training Program in Schools

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Military training can be integrated into schools and colleges so as to meet the future needs of the United States for a competent defense force, says Rep. Dworshak, R., Idaho.

He told a reporter he is strongly opposed to a year of intensive military training as advocated by President Truman and the army but he believes that the physical training, the knowledge of the value of discipline and a test of leadership qualities are most desirable.

Dworshak is a veteran of the first World war and was state commander of the American Legion in 1931. Two of his four sons were in World war II.

Dworshak suggests a plan through which all physically qualified boys would participate, in high school or college, in a carefully prepared program like the present reserve officers training corps.

These students would be required to take one or more technical courses to be determined by the army and navy, but selective for the student so far as possible. Physical education would be stressed. Uniforms and equipment would be furnished.

In addition to this training in school, the boys would be required to attend at least one summer camp of six weeks or two months where basic military training would be stressed. Boys who do not enter colleges would be required to serve in the national guard for a specified term.

"I feel that this or a similar plan would far better prepare this country for any future war than would a straight 12-months draft of 18-year-olds," Dworshak said. "It is this important factor in the [illegible] It would not remove our boys from the guidance of their [illegible] schools and churches for a year."

troop replacements, the general disclosed there are 616,000 troops left in the European theater, of whom 300,000 will comprise the occupation force and 316,000 the "close out" troops.

To bring the total down to 300,000, equal shipments of soldiers will be made each month between January and July.

McNarney warned, however, that there would be delays of one to three months now in shipping some categories of troops home because replacements were considerably behind schedule.

DEMOBILIZATION SLOWED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—The army slapped the brakes on demobilization today with a declaration that replacements would be insufficient to maintain necessary forces abroad at the present rate.

Its full list of available shipping, all of about 1,553,000 overseas troops who are or will become eligible could be returned to the United States in three months, a war department official said at a news conference.

Instead, the army plans to spread the returns over six months.

This slower rate combined with replacements will reduce total overseas strength to a planned minimum of 700,000 by Jan. 1, Lieut.-Gen. J. Lawton Collins told reporters yesterday.

He declared, however, that no man should be held in a foreign theater more than three months after he becomes eligible for discharge.

"Our overseas forces would be dangerously understrength in occupying hostile countries if all eligible men were to be returned before sufficient replacements arrived," the war department information chief said.

Buhl Session Hears Call to Develop Area

"We should have more and better roads here and should have the money to match federal funds to build these roads," he said. He asked valley residents to get behind such projects as that for the straightening of highway 30 between Buhl and Glenns Ferry.

He also touched upon the juvenile delinquency problem in the valley, urging parents to lend their support to efforts to combat it by giving more time to their children and by cooperating with law enforcement agencies.

Senator Taylor was introduced and spoke briefly, supplementing the governor's remarks, especially upon the matter of freight rates. He arrived at the meeting after it was already under way.

Among the other notables present were Dan Hoope, Boise, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Idaho; Don J. Cavanagh, Twin Falls, state committeeman, and Francis M. Bistline, Pocatello, state committeeman. The governor's wife also attended.

ficial notification the President had appointed the emergency board.

The railway labor act provides that the appointment of an emergency board stays any walkout while the board examines the merits of the dispute.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen had notified the Priest that the walkout would be called today, affecting the road's operations in nine states—Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

Twelve grievances, not including wage and hours, are involved. The railway mediation board said both parties had refused to arbitrate the grievances. The President's board will report its findings within 30 days.

In Cleveland, the two daily afternoon newspapers missed publication for the first time in their histories because of a strike of AFL pressmen.

The strike was called to enforce wage demands, and both the News and Press reported no plans to publish before settlement of the dispute. The morning daily, the Plain Dealer, said its two local editions Saturday were delayed by a sitdown of pressmen.

One of three companies threatened with a strike of electrical workers Jan. 15 announced yesterday it had offered the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America a wage increase "better than the 10 per cent" it recently proffered the union.

Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric company, said the company had made a new offer of a straight 10-cents-an-hour increase for all employes making less than one dollar an hour. Such an increase, he said, would grant employes in lower pay brackets more than the straight 10 per cent increase originally offered.

Continuing disputes kept 400,000 workers idle, with the 47-day-old CIO strike at 70 General Motors plants accounting for more than half the total.

War Controls Asked to Aid Butter Crisis

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—A committee whoh said it represented a majority of the butter producers of the nation today urged the government to restore four war food orders to avert an "extremely serious" butter shortage.

The committee's members are representatives of the National Creameries association, the Dairy Products Marketing association and the American Butter institute. It made its recommendations in telegrams to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, Price Administrator Chester Bowles; John Snyder, director of reconversion, and Dr. T. G. Stitts, of the dairy branch of the production and marketing division of the department of agriculture.

The four orders, WFO 79, 79-2, 8 and 82, covered limitation of sales of fluid milk and cream; limited butter fat content of cream to 19 per cent, preventing the sale of whipping cream; limited butterfat in ice cream, and limited production of cheese and cheese foods other than cheddar. All these limitations were removed Sept. 1.

"Restoration of these government orders," Russell Fifer, committee secretary said, "would divert milk from those products to butter. As it is with no controls the production of butter has dropped dangerously since Sept. 1.

"This production immediately started to drop until the November, 1945, production was less than 20 per cent of November, 1944, although August, 1945, was slightly higher than August, 1944."

Jerome Rancher Leases Holstein From University

JEROME, Jan. 5—Idaho Triune Reliance, a thoroughbred Holstein bull, whose birthday occurred Oct. 16, 1945, was brought to the Harold Cook ranch recently from the University of Idaho and by special arrangement has been leased to Mr. Cook for a one-year period.

The dam of this bull is Idaho Echo Genevieve, owned by the university and who became the highest producing cow in the state in her class when she completed 4 years test Oct. 18 with an official record of 26,637 pounds of milk, testing 3.4 per cent, containing 900.9 pounds of butterfat. She is the first cow in the university herd ever to produce more than 900 pounds of butterfat on thrice a day milking. She was eight years and one month old when the test began and has a life-time milk production record of 127,648 pounds. She is officially classed as "good plus" in type.

Mr. Cook stated that other dairymen might wish to use the thoroughbred product but he cannot accommodate them due to lease terms which forbid this practice as a means of preventing spread of disease.

Mr. Cook says he considers himself very fortunate in being able to obtain a son of such an outstanding producer as Echo Genevieve, and is anticipating to raise the already high production records of his herd. Mr. Cook herd average for 1945 covering 7 cows was 13,484 pounds of milk with an average test of 3.36 yielding 453.7 pounds of butterfat.

The sire of the young university bull to be used by Mr. Cook for the next year is Carnation Masterpiece Tritonia, who has six AREO daughters with an average production of 23,662.3 pounds of milk testing 3.29, and an average butterfat production of 747 pounds. Bloodlines on both sides of the family pedigree are outstanding for production records.

Oregon Star Gazer Traces Year's Origin

By J. HUGH FRUETT
Astronomer, Extension Division, Oregon Higher Education System

Again with us are those confusing days which—to almost every one bring the annual inconvenience of making erasures on the date of outgoing mail. A new year is here, and slowly we are learning to write "1946."

This year will be made up of 365 days. Might it not be more practical should its length be changed somewhat by governmental decree? Possibly, but then it would no longer have an astronomical basis. Like the day, it is a natural division of time, depending upon definite celestial phenomena. The hour, on the other hand, is purely artificial.

Reason Used March 1

No certain argument from nature seems to exist for starting our year with January 1. The ancient Roman used March 1. We might with more reason select the vernal equinox, the "official" beginning of spring around March 21. Or why not the longest day, June 22, or better still, the shortest day, December 22?

Although likely purely incidental, yet our year does start at about the time the earth is nearest the sun. In 1946, this closest approach, known as perthelion, occurred on January 1, but usually it comes a day or more later. We are then 3,000,000 miles nearer the sun than in July—although many may doubt it. Inhabitants of the southern hemisphere, however, find nothing inconsistent in this statement since they have summer when we have winter. They are on the same world as are we.

Alternated Days

Since from one new moon to the next is close to 29½ days, many ancient peoples, using this natural division of time, constructed their year of 12 months of alternating 29 and 30 days. But this made only 354 days. Some nations added an extra month every two or three years to keep the year in step with the seasons; others did nothing about it, so during 33 years any date on the calendar spent about eight years in each of the four seasons.

A natural year is usually defined as the time it takes the earth to make one complete circuit around the sun. It is actually about 20 minutes shorter than this since the precession of the equinoxes has to be taken into consideration. Its length is 365 days 5 hours 48 minutes 46 seconds.

When Julius Caesar "reformed" the calendar in 45 B. C., he assumed the year's length to be 365¼ days. To keep the seasons straight, so that eventually snow would not be falling when the calendar said it was summer, he decreed three consecutive years of 365 days each, then a fourth of 366. But Caesar's year was 11 minutes too long, so in 1582 A. D. Pope Gregory made a further slight correction, giving us our present Gregorian calendar.

Bad Weather Only Threat To Spud Men

Barring bad weather, now the only remaining threat to Idaho's potato shippers, the entire Idaho potato crop should be cleared for shipment by May 1 before the southern crops start hitting the market, E. S. Harper, Twin Falls shipper, said last night.

Harper, who reported no more than 30 potato dealers at a meeting here Friday night that the refrigerator car shortage has definitely been broken, declared that the one threat to getting the cars here was bad weather.

"The railroads are doing all they can to rush those cars through and are working in all kinds of weather," he said. "If we do not get a spike of bad weather which will delay the arrival of cars, we should have the crops cleared by May 1."

Potato crops from the southern states do not hit the markets until after that date, he added, pointing out that the Idaho growers market would not then be impaired.

Harper reported that some of the cars which had been promised for Idaho during his recent conferences in Omaha and Chicago with rail officials should start arriving here by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Idaho has been promised 275 to 300 cars a day throughout January and February, he said, with an average of 132 cars a day thereafter until May 1. That, he added, should be sufficient.

Vets' Safety Risked, Radio Man Charges

SEATTLE, Jan. 5 (UP)—American Broadcasting company China correspondent, Ed Souder, jr., charged here today that 1,100 Pacific veterans, including members of the famous "Flying Tigers" were returned to Tacoma, Wash., yesterday from Shanghai aboard a converted Liberty ship that had lifeboats and quarters adequate to handle only 150 men.

Souder, who was raised in China and covered military operations in China and Burma for two years, also charged that officers of the transport, the Alderman, neglected to hold emergency drills during the voyage which lasted more than three weeks.

Safety Ignored

"The safety problem was largely ignored," Souder, a passenger, said. "Even though the ship was sailing through waters where the danger of mines was always present, hundreds of men were without even lifeboats."

Souder said the Aldermain's lifeboats were capable of holding no more than 150 men. "There were rafts but their usefulness is limited in conditions where rescue is almost immediately available," he said.

"Finally the ships cargo holds which housed the men were such tremendous, closely-packed affairs, and had such few and narrow exits that a hasty yet orderly emptying of those areas was a practical impossibility," he said.

No One Hungry

"No one went very hungry during the trip," he said, "but the Aldermain's cold storage locker was designed for five-day short interisland runs and long before our arrival in Tacoma we were either out or almost out of salt, sugar, milk (canned), and I exaggerate very little when I say there was barely room to turn around."

Building Permits Get Approval of Council

Keel, jr., to repair building.

We Can Retire Older Workers In Forthcoming Atomic Age

Editor, Times-News:

Ours is a country of great and varied natural resources. In addition, we possess the scientific knowledge and techniques to turn these resources into channels of widest utility. Since becoming a firmly organized government of free men, never have we lacked the abilities to produce the wealth to supply our citizens with higher standards of living than enjoyed by any other people.

We have felt able to afford a long period of education for our youth, a period in which youth renders little or no economic contribution to the production of wealth. Education, relatively free and easy of access, has been the best investment this nation ever made. It is reflected in the competence of our army, navy, and air force, this skillful, brainy, fighting machine did not spring from chance. There is no regret on our part that our young people are permitted the years of schooling before becoming a part of the economic system. They are not needed as workers and we choose, wisely, to excise them economic activity.

The greatest reward yet received from our devotion to education and scientific study is reflected in the discovery of atomic energy. This first result was to end the war sooner and save one million American lives (according to Mr. Churchill). Scientific men tell us that this new energy can be developed to accelerate production far beyond any previous rate of technological advance. At the same time the science of chemistry is revealing means of increasing the utilization of products and, thus, extending our resources in countless ways. There is no end in sight for our ingenuity and talent in creating new resources.

We can now afford to retire our older citizens from economic activity. Rather than permit this group to be a burden upon society and the nation, their economic contribution during 30 to 40 years of productive service should be rewarded by retirement insurance which will restore and maintain the balance between mass production and mass consumption.

The cost? With production sustained, there will be no cost. Rather, there will be economic gain measured by the difference between high gross national product and depression output of a gross product valued at several billions less. With the rapid advances in technology, it has become increasingly difficult to keep the older workers employed. They are unwanted in industry. In any period of declining employment, they are the first to be discharged and the last to be hired. This provides clear evidence that younger men render a larger economic contribution.

A wise nation, therefore, will specifically mark the older workers for retirement and clear the path for all younger men and women to be fully employed. Otherwise, in any period of declining business activity younger men, as well as older ones, will be among the unemployed. In addition to this economic waste the social hazards of unemployed youth are beyond calculation.

If and when the older group is needed in the active labor force, they are always ready and eager to take their places at the plow and lathe. The war is witness. With 12 million young men in the armed forces, the older men, along with others, performed miracles of production. With the war over and the young men wanting jobs, shall the elders be pushed into the street, or youth forced into disastrous idleness? Is that the way to operate a country? Cooperation in war; every man for himself in peace. Is there not a national way to figure this thing out?

What does it cost the nation to supply education for youth and excuse young men and women from economic activity? What would it cost if we reversed this policy? What would it cost to retire the older group from economic activity? What does it cost for 10 million, 15 million to be unemployed? When the gross national product falls in the amount of 200 billion dollars to 150 billion, perhaps lower, this decrease in national production will represent the unemployed losses. Fifty or more billions a year are a sizable cost. There will be social losses in addition that cannot be measured by a dollar sign.

Finally, there will be the cost of losing free enterprise, for it is agreed that our government of free men will take a different form if full employment is not gained and maintained as a national policy.

In mass production economy, such as ours, there is no way to curtail production at a high standard level other than through the incentive of consumer market demand except in the emergency of war when government needs an illimitable supply of war goods. Consumer needs must be made to equal mass production.

It is erroneous to think that investment buying can take its place for that leads to the building of additional plants whose products sooner or later always lack a consumer market. In normal times, all production is ultimately for the consumer. Consumer buying is the key control.

2 Soldiers Flay Militarism; Urge World Socialism

Editor, Times-News:

We, the undersigned, hereby take this means of registering our protests against peacetime military conscription.

Militarism, in whatever form it manifests itself, is an evil and an abomination. We know that the common people of the world despise militarism and regimentation, that they do not like the idea of compulsory conscription left to them. Those who favor militarism affirm that it will prevent future wars. History teaches that large standing armies have persistently failed to keep the peace and have never guaranteed victory for either the initiator of war or the attacked.

To quote the military themselves: Rear-Admiral Albert P. Niblack: "No one can make a thorough and impartial inquiry into the causes of wars without realizing that their roots run deep into the soil of trade rivalry." Lieut.-Col. W. S. Culbertson: "War is an aggravated form of trade rivalry." Said the late President Woodrow Wilson: "The seed of war in the modern world is industrial and commercial rivalry." In other words, the fundamental cause of war is to be found in economics.

The only solution for a lasting peace, worthwhile and working, in this world is socialism, as advocated by the true party of socialism in the United States — the Socialist Labor Party of America.

Case Worker, He Says, Sole Ruler As to Assistance

Editor, Times-News:

There seems to be considerable dissatisfaction voiced by the recipients of old age public assistance in this county.

Upon investigation during recent months I have found some cases where the claim was made that their money allotments were juggled up and down entirely at the discretion of the individual so-called "case worker."

This employe of the government pays a visit to the premises of the applicant and, after giving him or her the searching investigation and questioning that is said to be part of the requirements of the law, the "worker" reports his or her findings to state or county headquarters with her recommendations as to how much increase or reduce the indigent's allowance.

As the state department board does not make the investigation personally, it must be taken for granted the decision is practically an open and shut affair of the "worker."

There seems evidence that this party may be dumb and uneducated and holds the position from a political pull.

In my case I was able to draw out of my investigator, through conversation and then, from my outstanding lack of knowledge pertinent to such an employment.

My allotment was reduced at times by this same vindictive authority as low as $16 per month for a period of four months, which convinced me there was a personal hatred connected with the case.

There was then a conference called here by ex-Governor Baldridge, who was head officer of this department, for the purpose of giving me a hearing and opportunity to appeal in person. After becoming highly incensed and storing my objection to no avail in terms, such meeting was adjourned with the promise of a study of my case and, if possible, an adjustment. The result was a raise the very next month of $20, to make it then $36.

There are many other angles to these cases which would be too long to describe here. Suffice it to say that when the operatives get a raise themselves of from a minimum $150 to as high as $7,500 per year, and at a time when the cost of living is increasing to an alarming extent, it shows very poor policy to reduce the old worn-out workers to such a low level as four dollars a month and up.

Mutual Help Called Key to World's Hope

Only in world inter-dependence "is there life and the hope of survival for our world" in the light of a bewildering future, the Rev. Mark C. Cronenberger, pastor of the First Christian church, declared on the PTA-sponsored radio broadcast Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. Cronenberger defined many of the differences between the postwar and the old world and declared that "education is being conducted in the light of a new world order."

He summarized changes in the nation's education system caused by the war, and stated that schools "were not found wanting."

Sketching what he believes the changed future will be like, the Rev. Mr. Cronenberger said:

Same Humanity

"The new world will be much like the old in some superficial things and in some ways that run deep. Some of these will be good and some bad. The same is true of ways in which it will differ from the old world. Nevertheless . . . the same humanity will be here with all of its longings and desires and aspirations and emotions demanding expression.

"Out of the uncertainty, we can believe that it will be a world mechanically brilliant, bewildering, unprecedented—with three-hour journeys to Europe faster than sound, and men giving orders by means of radio and photo-electric cells to mechanisms which do things just short of doing the actual thinking.

"It will be a healthier world, for the mass medical care of military life must modify the evils of our eating individualism in regard to life and death. The discoveries of our medical men and the alertness of our public health and medical profession certainly will mean the complete release from many of our dreaded maladies, bringing increased long life and happiness.

Specific Education

"The new world will be a world where education will be fitted to the 'tool subjects,' to study—job programs and to the ongoing world. And, for good or ill, there will be more leisure time. It will be a world where it will be harder than ever to link our physical accomplishments to spiritual ends, but where there will be a multitude more of people, taught in the bitter school of war, to help bring it about into a living reality.

"The new world will be an interdependent world, and consciously so for the first time in history. But this very consciousness will drive some people to oppose, and others to espouse, paying the price of interdependence. And therein, the Christian religion will find one more golden opportunity, not only to accepted inter-dependence is there life and hope of survival for our world."

Much Noise, Damage, But No One Injured

BURLEY, Jan. 5 — There was plenty of noise and considerable damage to a truck and an automobile in a highway accident seven miles east of Burley late Friday night, but no one was hurt.

The noise came when a Jerome cooperative creamery truck loaded with empty milk cans sideswiped a stalled automobile driven by Peter E. Neeley, Pocatello. Reed McIntire, state law enforcement officer, said the rear wheels on Neeley's car had locked and that he had sent his wife, son-in-law and daughter ahead in another car. The truck was driven by Charles L. Davis.

Triplets Have 8,800 Yanks As Godfather

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (U.P.)—The only trouble with having 8,800 GI godfathers for your babies, a British bride said today, is that none of them knows how to wash a diaper.

That's particularly bad when the babies are triplets and there are 30 diapers to be done every day.

Otherwise, according to Mrs. Robert H. Glass, a young Englishwoman who married an American staff sergeant, the adoption of her blue-eyed, tow-headed identical triplet sons by the hard-boiled veterans of the 82nd airborne division was just about the nicest thing that could have happened to them.

12 Brides on Ship

The Glass triplets and their mother and 8,800 godfathers arrived aboard the Queen Mary. The Glass family was among 12 brides and nine children brought to this country on the British liner.

The newspaper of the famous airborne division said the adoption was "the climax of a love affair that started when the Queen Mary left Southampton."

The triplets' father, now employed in South Bend, Ind., telegraphed that he would be here as soon as possible to take Mrs. Glass and Robert, Harold Jr., Stephen Franklin, and Shane William to Springfield, O., to live temporarily with his mother.

Triplets Baptized

On New Year's day, five native Ohioans—honoring the three state of the triplets' father—represented the entire division at a christening ceremony in the captain's cabin. It was the first baptism aboard the Queen Mary since the start of the war.

Then a private got an idea. He put up $1 and suggested every member of the division chip in a buck to send the kids through college when they're old enough." Mrs. Glass said she expects to receive an education fund of about $6,000 in a special division review at Camp Shanks, N. Y., soon.

No Diaper Washers

"They're all been wonderful to me," she said. "But the one favor I would have appreciated most on the crossing, no one ever offered to do—wash the diapers. I have to get up at four every morning to start washing or I'd never make out."

The seven-month-old babies arrived with silver paratroop pins and the identification patches of the 82nd airborne fastened to each tiny shirt.

Mrs. Glass said the children were born in Louth, England. Sgt. Glass was flown from France to be present at their birth. He helped the doctor with the delivery and reacted normally when he discovered there were triplets.

He fainted.

Two Injured by Crash at Burley

BURLEY, Jan. 5—Two persons were injured, neither seriously, shortly before noon Saturday when an automobile driven by Bill Sanford, 38, Paul, collided with a pick-up truck driven by Chet Langer, Burley, at the intersection of Overland and Eleventh streets.

Mrs. Marjorie Langer and Howard Burgess, both riding in the pick-up, were taken to the Cottage hospital for treatment for cuts about the head. Mrs. Langer remained in the hospital, but Burgess was released after receiving preliminary treatment. Neither driver nor two passengers in the Sanford car were hurt.

Chief of Police W. W. Williams and Patrolman Lee Prodsham, who investigated, said both cars were badly damaged. Prodsham was recently released by the army where he was a captain in the MP's.

Dozen Depots For Clothing Drive Chosen

Twelve local depots have been selected for collection of used garments in the Victory clothing collection for overseas relief, beginning Monday and ending Jan. 31.

This was announced last night by Claude Brown, county chairman, who said the depots were as follows:

The List

Simmons Conoco service opposite Washington school; Five Points store, 105 Addison avenue west; Dee Pace Sales company, 240 Addison Avenue west; Standard Oil Service stations at 949 Main avenue west, 340 Shoshone street west and 1102 Kimberly road; Carter's Independent market, 663 Main avenue east; Timmons Home and Auto supply, 504 Main avenue east; Drive-Way market, 305 Second street north; Safeway store, 516 Main avenue north; Firestone store, 410 Main avenue south; and the postoffice.

Three places have been selected because they have drive-in facilities so that donors need not carry bundles long distances, Brown said. H. R. Tillery, chairman of the Rotary committee which will collect the garments, said each depot will have a large box with a poster above the drive. Windows of the depots are to have posters too. Members of his committee are Edward W. Crane, Robert M. Reese and W. G. Swim.

Piece Goods Too

Brown urged county residents to remove unneeded garments from closets in preparation for the drive. Old draperies, piece goods and remnants of one yard or more in length are urgently needed in the Pacific islands and China. The islanders use the material for loin cloths and sarongs and the Chinese make straight-cut garments from the cloth.

If shoes are contributed, they should be laced or tied together to insure matching. Donors should write friendly letters to the future recipients of the gifts, Brown suggested.

Perc Spangler is chairman of the Lions committee which is to supervise shipments of gifts. He has not yet appointed a committee or selected a general depot to receive garments from smaller centers.

CORPORAL TO RETURN

UNITY, Jan. 5 — Cpl. Ross Haycock, Unity, who has served the past 19 months in the Pacific with the eighth army airborne division, is in Japan and expects to return soon, according to word received by relatives here. He has been relieved of active duty and transferred to a replacement depot.

Driver Dozes At Wheel, Six Hospitalized

GOODING, Jan. 5—Six Seattle residents were in the Gooding hospital, two of them seriously injured, as a result of an automobile accident which occurred at 10 p. m. today. The driver of the car in which they were riding apparently dozed at the wheel and lost control when the machine hit the soft shoulders of highway 26 near Sing Hill.

Seriously injured were Diamond L. Christensen and Glenn C. Lewis, both of whom suffered severe back injuries and cuts. X-rays were being made to determine the full extent of their hurts.

Also hurt less seriously when the car overturned three times on the side of the road were Christensen's wife, Hope; their daughter, Ray Dean; Lewis' wife, Clara, and their two-year-old son, Wallis Glenn.

Mrs. Christensen suffered cuts on the face and a back injury; Ray Dean Christensen had minor cuts on the face; Mrs. Lewis suffered minor cuts, and the baby got off with a bump on the head.

Deputy Sheriff Johnny Willis, Mountain Home, who investigated the accident, said that Christensen, who was driving, apparently dozed at the wheel. When the car ran off on the shoulder of the highway, he jerked it back on the road, ran off onto the shoulder on the opposite side of the road, and then brought it back across the road a second time. When the car again hit the soft dirt it overturned three times.

Deputy Willis, an army captain who happened to be passing, and an ambulance from Mountain Home carried the injured to the hospital after a Glenns Ferry physician had given preliminary treatment.

Deputy Willis said the party was en route from Pocatello to Seattle, the Christensen's having picked up the Lewis family at Shelley, Ida. The 1938-model Chevrolet car they were driving was badly damaged, he said.

The accident occurred about a mile and a half east of King Hill.

Gooding hospital attendants said all the injured were resting well late tonight.

Six Accidents In 21 Hours— Pair Injured

Six auto accidents in 21 hours—that was the record which kept sheriff's deputies more than busy during Friday and Saturday. One accident took Deputy Sheriff Jim Hall to the Twin Falls hospital. Two people, both from out of the state, were injured. One of the victims, a woman, was taken by ambulance to the Twin Falls county general hospital.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Roger C. Hall, Tampa, Fla., who suffered severe bruises and sprains when the car in which she was a passenger, driven by her husband, overturned twice one mile north of Kimberly on highway 30 at 6 a. m. Saturday.

Skidded on Ice

Deputy Benham, who investigated the accident, stated that the Hall car went out of control "when it started to skid on icy road." Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Hall were thrown from the car as it rolled. The machine was a total wreck, Deputy Benham said.

Hospital attendants stated late yesterday that Mrs. Hall's condition was "satisfactory."

Sheriff Jeffers' sidekick Friday cars driven by Bills L. Beldon, Buhl, and Edward W. Bittner, Filer, collided at the west end of Main street in Filer, according to Deputy Sheriff Jel Hall, who investigated. There were no injuries to either driver. The accident occurred when Beldon turned to the left to go down Main street "and cut the corner too short," Deputy Hall said.

Head-on Crash

W. R. Liebe, Cody, Wyo., suffered head and knee bruises when the car he was driving crashed head-on with a machine driven by Lee Dearden, Garrison, Utah, in an underpass just north of the Nevada state line, south of Rogerson, on highway 93. Deputy Benham reported. The accident occurred at 2 p. m. Friday when the cars met in the narrow-est part of the underpass.

Edward Adams, Hereford, Tex., escaped injuries when his car went out of control on a slick road, two and a half miles east of Hansen on highway 30. The car rolled over and its top and a side were caved in.

Pete Peterson, Twin Falls, driver of a semi-trailer equipped with a milk tank owned by the Western Condensing company, escaped injury when his truck skidded from the road and sank into an irrigation ditch at the northern Kimberly city limits.

J. G. Post, truck operator, escaped hurts when his equipment went out of control after striking an auto one half mile south of Kimberly, crashed through a fence and broke off a nearby power pole.

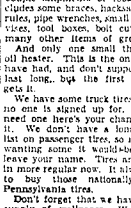

"Both the truck and the auto had been moved by the time I reached the scene of the accident," Deputy Benham said.

"Doc Ain't Mad Neither"

Hello everybody! The new year is starting off with us receiving a couple shipments of tools. It includes some knives, hacksaws, levels, rules, pipe wrenches, small and large vices, tool boxes, bolt cutters, and many other items of great value.

And only one small three room oil heater. This is the only one we have had, and don't suppose it will last long, but the first one here gets it.

We have some truck tires left that no one is signed up for, so if you need one here's your chance to get it. We don't have a long waiting list on passenger tires, so if you are wanting some it would be wise to leave your name. Tires are coming in more regular now. It always pays to buy those nationally known Pennsylvania tires.

Don't forget that we have a good supply of wallpaper. We trim it for you too. That is a wonderful time saver. We are expecting a new order of glazed kitchen patterns in soon. We have good patterns for every room in the house, at a price that you can afford.

We have some good lariat rope, and lots of pure sisal rope in all sizes. Good selection of rope and work halters.

Lots of pipe fittings, and plumbing supplies. Pipe cutters, closet augers, sink augers, force cups, chrome lead tubing, and even basket type strainers for sinks.

Hope you are the same.

Jeweler Called to Maternity Home—and Cuts Off a Ring

A Twin Falls jeweler was called to the county hospital maternity home in a big hurry Friday afternoon.

He arrived with a pocketful of clanking tools.

Escorted to an anxious woman patient, he whipped out his equipment and went to work.

And promptly cut a ring off the swollen finger of a new mother.

Chuckling friends last night revealed his emergency call to the maternity home, and revealed further that he's an old hand at the game. He's been called, they said, on similar missions before.

The woman patient had given birth Wednesday to a son and had experienced swelling of the hands, a not uncommon occurrence before or after childbirth. Friday the mother replaced the marriage ring she had removed as a precautionary measure.

Her fingers swelled, the ring would not come off and blood circulation was threatened. Summerfield neatly cut the ring and with the mother and staff smiling gratefully, he made his way back to his home and jewelry store . . . and to such other matters as a trip today to Boise as a member of the veterans' service commission to the state planning board. He's also state VFW chief of staff, Twin Falls VFW commander, president of the Allied Veterans council, was county Victory loan chairman.

Vet Starting New Delivery Service

Another new business in Twin Falls was announced last night by a World war II veteran, Jess Rainbolt, who said he would start Rainbolt's Insured delivery service on Monday, Jan. 14.

The service will operate anywhere within Twin Falls city limits, it will with one panel delivery truck but Rainbolt said he plans to add a motorcycle soon and probably another truck and motorcycle later. He will handle grocery and merchandise deliveries, drug prescription deliveries, other types of commercial work plus general calls from the public.

Offices will be maintained for the present at his residence, 185 Harrison.

Rainbolt, in the service four and one-half years, served in the Aleutian Islands for a year and for two years was pressroom sergeant in Twin Falls. From here he went to Bushnell general hospital for treatment of an injury sustained in the Aleutians. He is a native of Duncan, Ariz.

Divorces Granted Man, Two Women

Three divorces were granted here Friday in district court. Francis D. Scott, who charged cruelty, was granted a divorce from Fern Scott. The couple married at Elko, Nev., Nov. 4, 1940. The defendant was given restoration of her maiden name of Fern Kesserling.

Betty J. Parks, who had charged cruelty was granted a divorce from Mark Parks. The couple married at Jerome, Oct. 3, 1942. The plaintiff was granted the custody of a minor child and the defendant was ordered to pay $30 a month as support money for the child.

Juanita Allen was granted a divorce from Avis L. Allen on grounds of cruelty. The couple married at Twin Falls, July 11, 1941. A property settlement entered into by the couple was approved by the court. The plaintiff was given restoration of her maiden name, Juanita Butler.

City to Have Share in Big Phone Work

Twin Falls and other Idaho points will share in the record total of $18,500,000 planned in 1946 construction by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company, Mel E. Dolling, local manager, said last night.

The giant postwar program for 1946 was announced Saturday at Denver by President F. P. Ogden.

Ogden estimated that $547,000 will be spent in Idaho, of which $630,000 will be in plant construction and $240,000 in maintenance work that could not be done during the war.

Twin Falls Work

"Considerable work is planned for the Twin Falls exchange," Dolling said, "with a good deal of rural and cable work included. We will have more specific details later as to the work contemplated here and elsewhere in Idaho."

Dolling announced that the Twin Falls exchange gained 252 telephones in 1945, although there were actually only about three months in which materials were available. As of Jan. 1, he said, the company here has "held orders" on hand totalling 450.

New Record Here

The company's Twin Falls exchange is now at an all-time high, with about 5,000 telephones as the current total.

President Ogden's announcement at Denver said that the greater part of the $18,500,000 program—more than double the amount spent for gross plant additions in 1945—would go for new construction, especially for additions to the present plant.

The major items in the 1946 program include telephone instruments and apparatus, $6,200,000; exchange cable and lines, $5,000,000; central office equipment, $4,800,000; building additions, $2,600,000, and toll lines, $1,500,000.

Within the next five years Ogden estimated the company would spend $75,000,000 for new construction and increase by 40 per cent its present plant investment.

The Mountain States company supplies service in Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico, Montana, Utah, Wyoming and El Paso, Tex. It had 600 employes in the armed forces, of whom 500 have already returned from the services.

Here is a part of the committee named by Commander U. N. Terry of the Legion to conduct the Golden Gloves tournament: Standing—Bruce Vanderhoof, at left; Chauncey Abbott, Attorney Joe Blandford, Don Evans, Neil Weir; sitting—Ed Libert, Attorney Graydon Smith, Jack Thorpe, Max Brown, Gene Ostrander, promoter-chairman; George F. Redmond and W. W. Frantz. J. J. Winterholer, Dick Commons and Dale J. Wakem, other members of the committee, were unable to be present. (Staff photo-engraving)

Interest in the Times-News-Legion Golden Gloves tournament, to be staged either at the Legion hall or high school gymnasium is sweeping the northwest with the result that entries for the biggest boxing event ever held in Idaho already are beginning to roll into the sports editor's desk.

In fact, the interest is so great that Gene Ostrander, who Friday night was named promoter-chairman by the tournament committee selected by Commander U. N. Terry of the Legion, expressed doubt that the Legion hall would prove adequate to take care of the large crowds he expects to attend. He said that he believes the tournament will have to be transferred to the larger school gymnasium, which will accommodate more than 1,200 capacity of the Legion hall.

Although the tournament will probably take five nights to complete, Ostrander said he believed the entry list will be so great that two rings may be necessary with bouts going on simultaneously. However, he said that he would endeavor to get around this possibility.

The first boxer officially to enter the tournament was Dick Young, a likely-looking 165-pounder from the Twin Falls high school who will begin training for a chance to enter the "Tournament of Champions" in Chicago when Neil Weir and Travis (Travis) Bodrero set up their training quarters at the Legion hall either Tuesday or Wednesday of this week.

Also officially entered were Buddy Washington, colored featherweight, and Charles Siedel, bantamweight, from Portaflo. They were entered last night by Harry Gorby, promoter of the Portaflo boxing club.

Gorby said that he was staging an amateur tournament at the Pocatello high school Jan. 28-29 and the winners, there also would be entered in the Golden Gloves tournament here.

Vasco Parke, Declo's all-around sportsmen, said he expected to bring a Blubber of boys, including Oscar Osterhout, star Declo footballer who has a string of knockouts to his credit in high school bouts.

Ostrander set Jan. 23 and Jan. 30 for two ring programs that will be "warm-ups" for the Golden Gloves tournament.

He selected the following committees to assist him in staging these programs and also the northwest eliminations which will send eight champions to Chicago:

Tickets—W. W. Frantz and Max Brown.

Arenas — Jack Thorpe, Attorney Joe Blandford, J. J. Winterholer, Ed Libert and Dick Commons.

Referees — N. C. Weir and Travis Bodrero.

Advertising — Chauncey Abbott and Dale Wakem.

Legal—Graydon Smith.

Tournament entries — Redmond.

Unbeaten Hazelton to Get Big Test; Boise, Nampa, Pocatello Invade Area

A total of 32 scheduled games will give the Magic Valley its greatest basketball week of the season thus far. Every team will be in action, many of them twice, and in addition, the area will be called on to meet the invasion of three Big Six conference teams, Pocatello, Boise and Nampa. Hazelton's great team, which has yet to suffer a defeat while ringing up six victories, will get a real test during the week, playing three teams which are expected to give Supt. H. E. Powers' aggregation plenty of contention for the district championship—Gooding at Hazelton Tuesday), Acequia (at Hazelton Thursday), and Paul (at Eden Friday).

Rupert 45, Buhl 22—All eight players used by Coach George Hoss received field goals; result gave Pirates undisputed lead in Big Seven; Buhl junior varsity won, 25-24.

Burley 46, Filer 35—Coach Rulon Budge's Bobcats eased out ahead of Filer, running up 28 field goals in first Big Seven game.

Gooding 56, Oakley 45—First Big Seven game of Coach Elmer Cook's season; Gooding winning one, although Coach Nelson's Hornets, 34-31, at half and trailed by seven, 45-38, after three periods.

Twin Falls 37, Jerome 24—Jerome Bussell, Bruin center, counted a field goal for Jerome but made up for that with eight field goals and three free throws for his team; Bruins made seven points in one five minutes to gain victory; Twin Falls' Carleton got 14 points for Jerome; Jerome got 15 points as Cubs beat Jerome junior varsity, 23-15, for seventh victory.

Castleford 24, Filer (Shorthouse made) 23—Free throw for the Wolves.

Kimberly 39, Hagerman 16 (two overtimes)—Miss Jean Parsons, Bulldog coach, celebrated return from home town with nice victory; tied first in four games for Coach Jack Martin's five; Quesnell's new shot Jack Bellknap; Kimberly girls won, 20-18.

Rockland 28, Murtaugh 26—Hatcher, substitute, sank two goals in its score late in game for Murtaugh; Murtaugh won junior varsity game, 19-16.

Shoshone 41, Glenns Ferry 16—Third victory for Coach Wilson's quint after eight straight losses; Glenns Ferry had freshmen, 23-8.

Hazelton 45, Eden 16—Kenny Perkins tallied 20 points as his team won sixth straight; Hazelton junior varsity won.

Dietrich 47, Wendell 42—Coach Wilson's quintet continued to rule of district's outstanding team; Kenny Wendell rang up 20 points; Dietrich girls won, 34-21.

Heyburn 42, Declo 34—Coach Hanks' quint gave notice that it was in title running; Heyburn juniors won, 31-11.

Bellevue 37, Carey 17—Bellevue junior varsity also won, 19-10, but the Carey girls came through, 19-14.

Richfield 32, Fairfield 21—Richfield also won the preliminary game, 27-17, with Sorensen getting 14 points.

Simplots Beaten

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Jan. 5 (AP)—The Phillips 66 Oilers won their third straight American basketball league contest tonight, beating Simplot-Deserets, 61-36.

It was the first league setback for the Simplots in three starts.

John (Pop) Freiberger, Phillips' stand center, led the scoring with 15 points, while Laddie Gale paced the Simplots with 10.

The victory was the 11th straight for Phillips.

There wasn't any doubt about the outcome of the game from the opening minutes as the Oilers jumped into a 6-0 lead and were ahead 34-19 at the half.

The Oilers beat the Simplots, 57-47, in a practice game last night.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

Ye Olde Sport Scrivener has made a discovery. The hitchest gent connected with sports in the Magic Valley.

He's Junior Schnell, the Filer coach.

Not only has he got his wildcats fighting like mad (which means they'll register more than one upset, like that against Jerome, before the season ends), but he's organizing a team — the Frosties — to play the Simplot Globe-Trotters and the Co-eds when they appear here.

That his Frosties were beaten, 46-37, Saturday night by Wendell's Outlaw league team, isn't worrying him a bit. He's looking forward to the time when Corky Carlson, Johnny Wells, Otto Fleenor, Brice Evans and Herb Larsen join himself, Bill Folkson, Orville Tetz, Tom McDonald, Robert Ruthbun, Bob Smith and Dick Pelzer, junior expects to have them all in action when the Frosties play Murtaugh here Monday night and at Shoshone the following Monday.

When spring comes Junior'll be going faster than ever, coaching both baseball and track at Filer and then — going to training camp with the Cowboys. President Maury Doerr's going to give Schnell a chance to cash in fine recommendation as a pitcher, that a former Cowboy manager, Andy Harrington, gave him after a trial back in 1941.

And that's that for now, except Vasco Parke, Declo's nationally-known racing official, can't understand why Gooding Wolf was riding in a claiming race, the one in which he was killed Thursday at Santa Anita, after he had seen Woolf turn down a ride on Apollo to ride in such a race on several occasions ... Parke conferred here Saturday with a half dozen boys who desire to become jockeys.

'Off-Record' Tilts Confuse Team Standing

Just who's who as far as the standings in the Magic Valley Outlaw league is concerned was trying to be learned by Earl Williams, Jerome high school principal who serves as secretary of the new independent circuit. What Williams did know was this: The Shoshone and Rupert teams have yet to be beaten.

What confuses the issue is this: The league teams have played a number of exhibition games that do not count in the standings. Williams wants to know—and he must know to arrange for the coming tournament — which games count and which do not.

The Jerome Jaycees won their first game, after one loss, by downing Filer last night, 41-38. Friday night Shoshone beat Fairfield, 36-26.

NELSON TAKES LEAD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (AP)—Byron Nelson settled into championship stride today to take over the halfway lead of the 72-hole Los Angeles open tournament. His two under par 69, coupled to yesterday's 71, gave him a 36-hole total of 140. Sammy Snead trailed by a stroke.

Idaho Egg Leads Teams; Gooding Pair Tops 2-Man

The 3,003 score rolled by the Idaho Egg—Smith, McDonald, Miller, Crom and Wolfe—with Ace Miller furnishing 616 to the total, Friday night stood up after eight more teams rolled in the Magic Valley tournament Saturday night. The Gooding, H. and S. scofe of 2,957 also continued second best.

However, the Reeves Wholesale shot into third place with 2,931, while the Timmons got 2,940 for fourth.

D. Cooledge and Parker Strickling, Gooding, snatched the lead from Glen Robey and George Kay in the doubles, getting 1,275 to 1,227 for the latter pair. A 214 by Cooledge and 213 by Strickling in the final game put them across.

Bob Louse and G. Scanlon, Gooding, were third in the doubles with 1,223, followed by T. Roberts and Verne Johnson, Buhl, 1,209, and Charles Bruggemann and Al Norton, 1,205.

Two teams from Rupert, one from Burley, Brinegar's Twin Falls All-Stars and the Five Recketeers will roll in the team event today. There also will be doubles.

Murtaugh Wins

MURTAUGH, Jan. 5—Murtaugh withstood a last quarter Wendell rally and won tonight, 30-29. Murtaugh won the junior varsity game, 26-8, but Wendell took the girls' game, 38-23.

Wendell Grange Supply Pays Out Stock Dividends

WENDELL, Jan. 5—The local Grange supply unit issued a statement this week that a total of $3,974 was paid out to the 249 stockholders, representing their 1942 earnings.

The dividends were held for three years in order to hold a reserve for expansion.

The Wendell Grange supply showed gross receipts of $111,506.62 for the year 1945. The two other stores in the state ranking second and third in gross receipts were several thousands of dollars behind the Wendell store. The Shoshone store was second in line.

According to Homer Moon, manager of the Wendell supply the total membership this year is nearly 300 as compared to 262 during the same period in 1944.

The Grange supply is a cooperative store handling all types of farm merchandise and home appliances, along with coal, wood, gas and oils.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Scattered favorites continued to reach for recovery in today's stock market although animation still was lacking and many leaders backed into slightly losing territory.

A little short covering and timid buying was attributed to the thought that, after five successive sessions without an average advance, the list was entitled to at least a temporary technical rebound even if further stumbles are in the cards.

The direction remained a trifle cloudy near the close.

Transfers ran to around 500,000 shares.

A few "thin" stocks such as Schenley jumped several points. Shamrock Oil enjoyed a good upswing at a new high. Wilson and company common edged forward in the wake of a 20-cent dividend, first since 1937 when 12½ cents was paid.

Rails shifted over a slim and uneven trail, as did the majority of motors, utilities, coppers and oils.

PEGLER

NEW YORK—Norman Baker, of Laredo, Tex., has filed a petition with the federal communications commission, in Washington, charging that the Alamo Broadcasting company, of San Antonio, by unprecedented methods obtained physical possession of important broadcasting equipment, the property of CIA. Industrial Universal de Mexico, at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Westbrook Pegler

The Alamo station is the most important single property of the Texas state network, organized by Elliott Roosevelt. The network's stock, represented to be worthless in January, 1942, recently was valued at $100 a share. Baker's petition alleges that on the basis of the acquisition of this equipment, the FCC "in an unprecedentedly short time, and without notice or opportunity for any interested parties to be heard, granted Alamo Broadcasting company a construction permit." Such equipment was frozen by war regulations at the time.

Baker has a record of two convictions in the federal courts, both set forth in the petition. In the first case, in 1936, he says the FCC instigated an indictment charging him with making and transporting across the border into Mexico without permission from the FCC a phonograph record which was played on XENT. He was sentenced to four months in jail and fined $2,000.

Although he does not say so, there is reason to assume that the phonograph record dealt with a method by which Baker claims to have cured external cancer. He was next convicted of using the mails to defraud in the operation of a hospital at Eureka Springs, Ark. He was sentenced in Jan. 1940 to four years in prison and fined $4,000.

He seemed to be convinced that he can cure cancer and to have suffered reverses, but whether he is a mercenary quack, a mistaken zealot or a martyr to prejudice remains a matter of opinion. He relates that even before he set up his station in Laredo the F.C.C. revoked his license for a station in Muscatine, Ia.

Baker's petition says that sometime in 1941, he being in jail, a trusted employe of XENT delivered to representatives of Alamo an option to buy the Mexican station. And, he says, under that option the Mexican firm did deliver part of the equipment to Alamo. Thus, he says, he was put out of business at last, a result long desired by the F.C.C., and Alamo was enabled to apply for a better frequency and increased power while other stations were unable to obtain such advantages because of the "freeze."

* * *

Returning to Laredo in July 1944, he charges, he was warned by persons unnamed that if he tried to prevent the physical transfer of the apparatus across the border he might be arrested for violation of his probation or prosecuted in a tax case.

Nevertheless, Baker states, he notified the Mexican government which forbade the exportation of the equipment during the war. This, he says, delayed delivery and compelled Alamo to ask the FCC for extensions of time for the completion of its improvements.

However, Baker alleges, "in April, 1945, the Alamo Broadcasting company, its agents, officials, servants and employes, went to Nuevo Laredo and loaded four large trucks with said transmitting and other radio equipment, preparatory to crossing the bridge under cover of night."

Baker seems inconsistent, although he states later that Phillip R. Overton, of Austin, Tex., attorney for Alamo, arranged permission for him to spend 15 days in Mexico.

* * *

He says this was insufficient time for him to investigate thoroughly and that the visit was restricted to such duration "as was intended to serve the interests" of Overton, Alamo and Gene Cagle, the general manager of the Texas state network, now largely the property of Elliott Roosevelt's former wife, since remarried and known as Ruth Eldson. He does not explain why Overton would have helped him to enter Mexico at all.

Cagle owns 500 shares of Texas state network which he bought for $5,000. They are now worth about $50,000. Baker says the increase is attributable to the F.C.C.'s permit to increase the power of Alamo's station KABC from 250 to 50,000 watts. Elliott Roosevelt, in the investigation of his loans, said Cagle had done fine work rehabilitating the Texas state network. Elliott said nothing about any acquisition of XENT's equipment by Cagle.

It may be remembered that stock which Elliott had pledged for loans was wheedled back into the custody of President Roosevelt by Jesse Jones — representing that it was worthless and that this stock, now worth about $250,000, defrayed Elliott's obligations for alimony and child-maintenance.

Baker undertook to prove that about the time that Alamo asked F.C.C. for the construction permit, Ruth Eldson and Cagle, "went to the White House" to further the application. He adds, with waggish legal solemnity, that the Alamo Broadcasting company is now referred to in the radio industry as "the alimony broadcasting company."

TUCKER

"IMMATERIAL" — The McVay court-martial procedure was deliberately rigged by the navy prosecutors at Washington so as to conceal the amazing fact that the naval forces have no orders, no system, and no prearranged plan for sending out destroyers or fast-plane rescue squads for vessels which do not arrive at port on scheduled time.

Ray Tucker

There is no provision in the navy manual for taking emergency action to search for and salvage an overdue warship and her crew.

To the astonishment of naval personnel, members of congress and newspapermen covering the trial, that vital question was not raised by the prosecution or the defense.

It was not brought up formally, although it was present in every observer's mind, because the limited issue had been drawn so narrowly that the naval judges could and would have ruled it out as immaterial, irrelevant and impertinent.

* * *

ASLEEP — Captain McVay was charged soberly and specifically with irresponsibility for the destruction of forty million dollars' worth of Uncle Sam's property—the cruiser Indianapolis. He was convicted on the count of negligence because it was held that his failure to zigzag in dangerous waters left his ship vulnerable to the Japanese submarine.

But the human loss from the torpedoing of the Indianapolis was not McVay's fault or doing. According to all testimony, more than 800 American sailors perished because the top commanders at Leyte or the Philippines, or both, did not dispatch ships and planes over its plotted course when the cruiser did not reach Leyte at the appointed hour.

* * *

DUCKS — Harold L. Ickes has been expanding the federal domain for so many years that Uncle Sam has become "the world's greatest owner of land. He has won almost every battle in the face of fierce opposition from the dispossessed—old settlers, timber and mining interests, hunters, fishermen, etc. But he may have less luck in his latest fight to establish a 12,000-acre sanctuary for vagrant ducks on the coast of Massachusetts.

Not since the Boston tea party have these descendants of the makers of the 1776 revolution been so stirred. They would hurl the "cold curmudgeon" into the icy waters if they got their hands on him, especially as their congressional champions charge that they caught the cabinet member engaged in a shabby bit of government business.

* * *

PROTESTS — Denouncing the proposal to flood an area inhabited by clammers and farmers whose ancestors settled in the vicinity of Ipswich, "Georgetown, Rowley and Newbury, Representative George J. Bates of Massachusetts puts it this way:

"It's a question of who has priority—ducks or people!"

* * *

He and Representative Thomas J. Lane, a Democrat, have introduced bills to block the project. Among the entire Bay state delegation, as well as Governor Maurice J. Tobin, has knocked the residents in their protests against eviction, the flooding of their farms and the ousting of some local industries.

* * *

CLAMOR—Ickes' handling of the problem from start to finish has angered the Yankees on capitol hill. They charge that he tried to rush the project through without holding sufficient hearings at which the inhabitants could protest against condemnation of their property.

The New Englanders raised such a clamor, in their local newspapers, at public meetings and before the house agriculture committee, that the great conservationist decided to make another survey.

He sent Theodore Spector, department lawyer, to investigate, and agreed to abide by his recommendation. But when Ickes received the document, which urged that the size of the sanctuary be reduced, he tried to suppress it, in violation of his pledge.

* * *

CHALLENGE—The report of the frank and honest Mr. Spector explains why his superior wanted to bury it and withhold it from congressional eyes.

"A revolt is brewing," the document said. "I was told that bloodshed might result.

"These people have been in the habit of thinking of the rights of man. Their grandfathers and fathers participated in battles for liberty and, therefore, it is quite natural for them, in a protesting spirit, to challenge the seizure of their land."

* * *

BENEFITS—The assistant solicitor said the natives were so agitated when the federal wildlife agents posted notices about condemnation of their land, that they feared the federal men's automobile tires. He also reported that the withdrawal of the property would force some towns to raise their taxes —another sore point with the thrifty Yankees.

What puzzles the natives is why the "great liberal" should impose such hardships on old settlers when the principal benefits will redound to wealthy hunting interests, who seem to exert more influence around the interior department than do the "little people."

Writer Finds Yankee Hotel Oasis in Paris

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

PARIS, Jan. 5—California hotel stands at the cross-roads of American trade with Europe—a friendly, home-like little hostelry through which pass the Marco Polos who seek to buy or sell and accordingly follow the routes to various parts of a continent which is so changed by war that exploration is an adventure into the unknown.

The California nestles comfortably in the Rue de Berri, just off the Champs Elysees, not far from the Etoile. Its unpretentiousness quite belies its present importance, for it affords temporary shelter and food not only to business folk but to diplomats, writers, artists.

All Types

In fact, to such a diversity from all parts of the United States that frequently it houses a fairly comprehensive cross section of American life. By coincidence the state of California is the home of its Yankee manager, R. H. Lewis, of Taft. It's about the only hotel in all Paris where warmth and food can be had these days by persons of moderate means.

The answer to this anomaly, in a capital which is just about stripped of normal accommodations, is that the California service is sponsored by the United States department of state, which buys food from the American army and thus can cater at moderate prices to needs of transient Americans. This is indeed a godsend to the traveler, because the alternatives to the California are the scattered black market hotels which charge prices that stagger even the millionaire.

By black market hotels I mean those which purchase their food, wines and coal from the black markets and fix their prices accordingly.

$20 for Dinner

In one of these places you may pay $20 for a fairly modest dinner, and if you like good wines the sky is the limit of your bill. So the California gets the Americans who don't patronize that sort of hotel.

There are members of the diplomatic service, on their way to various European posts. There are merchants who have ventured here to market, and there are others who would like to buy. American business houses are beginning to reopen, and their employes register at the California while they search for places of their own.

Still, it isn't merely of food and comfort that we write. The California affords these things, but it renders perhaps a far greater service in providing a meeting place for an exchange of information among business men regarding the prospects of trade in France and in other continental countries.

Palette Knife Painter

Prof. A. J. Finkbeiner, head of the art department at the Northwest Nazarene college at Nampa, who features Palette knife painting. His works, together with paintings by the Rev. R. W. Jackson, Buhl, are on display at the Twin Falls public library. This afternoon will conclude the exhibition which also highlights brush painting. The display is sponsored by the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Writers' league. (Staff engraving)

Palette Knife Led Masters To Heights, Artist Declares

By MARTHA MacNAMARA

Some of the really great masters reached the height of their careers by way of the palette knife method of painting," Prof. A. J. Finkbeiner, head of the art department at the Northwest Nazarene college at Nampa, said Saturday.

He cited Van Der Meer and Van Gogh, both Dutchmen, who used this technique. Impressionists, modernists and surrealists find this process a convenient means for their particular interpretation.

Professor Finkbeiner reports that palette knife painting is one of the oldwest ways of oil painting. One of the most interesting pictures displayed at the exhibit, sponsored by the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Writers' league, is "Ukraine," suggested to the artist by a description from Capt. Charles Griffith, Chicago.

Closes Today

His paintings have been displayed the past week at the Twin Falls public library and the exhibit will conclude at 4 p. m. today. Brush painting is displayed by R. W. Jackson, Buhl.

Professor Finkbeiner, in his pictures "Old Ships," "Ukraine" and "Vision of a Cross," shows the use of the knife superimposing in impressionist style of Van Gogh. Here he also incorporated the compositionist style as adopted by Hoffman. In the picture "Study in Color," the professor uses the knife in showing brilliance of color. Here the colors are blended rather than using the straight effect.

The art instructor began his studies under Fred Graham, Linfield, college in Oregon. He graduated with a fine arts degree from this institution and has since studied under Charles Muryy, leading American compositions; Robert Cross, functional drawing; Madame Chouinard, life studies; Ben Messick, sketching; Millard Sheets, water color, and Etienne Ray, oil studies.

Many Exhibits

The professor has exhibited his paintings at Boise, Portland, Los Angeles and Vancouver. He spent three years as a traveling artist doing quick sketches and scenes. He is affiliated with the Chicago arts center and Los Angeles art center.

A special program has been prepared to conclude the art exhibit this afternoon. It will begin at 3 p. m. when Mrs. Julian E. Hayes will introduce the artists and the following women who have been hostesses throughout the week. Mrs. Robert Henson, Mrs. Herbert J. Schwartz, Mrs. Earl Peck and Mrs I. G. Goulding.

She will also recognize groups receiving special invitations which include American Association of University Women, Twentieth Century club, Mary Davis Art club, and Federation of Women's club.

Mrs. Hayes' address will be followed at 3:15 p. m. by a 10-minute talk by the Rev. Mr. Jackson. He will discuss the possibilities of future art exhibits. A 20-minute chalk talk and demonstration will begin at 3:25 p. m. by Professor Finkbeiner. The art exhibit will be concluded at 4 p. m.

Victory Loan Exceeds Goal By 10 Billion

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—The $11,000,000,000 Victory loan was oversubscribed by $10,144,000,000, when tabulations ended Dec. 31, the treasury disclosed today.

Altogether $21,144,000,000 was subscribed in the Victory loan, the eighth and final of the war-connected drives. Every phase of the drive was oversubscribed.

The Victory loan sales brought the total of government securities sold since May 1, 1941, to $216,000,000,000, including $200,000,000,000 purchased by individuals and non-banking groups.

The remainder — $10,000,000,000 was purchased by commercial banks during the first two war loans. Since that time such institutions have not been allowed to purchase war bonds.

During the various drives, the treasury spent about $46,000,000 for sales and promotion. This was less than one-half of one per cent of the total sales.

The interest rate on the bonds which financed the war has been kept down to 1.97 per cent, compared with 4.22 per cent in the first World war.

E-bond sales, pitched harder than any of the others, accounted for $2,204,000,000 of total sales, against the goal of $2,000,000,000. Total individual sales totaled $6,776,000,000, or 104 per cent of the $4,000,000,000 goal. Overall sales amounted to 192 per cent of quotas.

VELTZ

Veltz, discharged at Camp Beale, Calif., Dec. 20, 1945, was awarded the overseas medal with two stars; the good conduct medal, the victory medal and a French unit citation.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Veltz, 723 South Garfield street Lodi, Calif.

Raging Storm Closes Roads To Ski Point

Snow storms raging in the Magic mountain ski area Saturday afternoon added 16 inches of new snow to the vicinity, closing roads to the ski lodge and runs, Claude P. Jones, operator, announced late Saturday.

The roads, opened Friday for the week-end, were closing rapidly Saturday and will not be opened until the blizzard subsides, Jones said.

Buses scheduled to leave the Sporter for the ski area this morning were cancelled and skiers were advised not to attempt to reach the area in cars.

Instruction classes will begin at 8 p. m. Friday at the Sporter and will be held each week. Pins will be awarded as incentives for attendance at the "dry skiing" classes. It was decided at a meeting of the Magic Mountain Ski club Friday evening.
